Asks Radical Reforms in Administration of State and Economic Life.

First British Court To-night Will be Brilliant Social Function.

(By Times Special Cable.)
 St. Petersburg, Feb. 12.—In the course of the evening the cabinet appointed last night, the Emperor further gave reference to his recent tour of Russia, which enabled him to observe the needs of the people. While he was satisfied with the progress of the country, he experienced deep regret at the weakness, poverty and economic stagnation which were the inevitable results of drunkenness. He became imbued with the urgent necessity of introducing radical reforms in the financial administration of the state and the economic life of the country. The Emperor declared that it is inadvisable to permit the favorable financial situation of the empire to depend upon the destruction of the moral and economic strength of a great multitude (Continued on Page 9.)

A TENDER QUEEN

Cares for Victim of Brussel's Hard Times.

(By Times Special Cable.)
 Brussels, Feb. 12.—A pathetic scene, in which Queen Elizabeth was the central figure was witnessed in front of the palace last night. As King Albert and Queen Elizabeth were leaving the palace in an automobile to attend a performance of "Parafra," a poor old woman threw herself on the ground in front of the machine. The chauffeur threw on his emergency brake and stopped the car abruptly just in time to save the woman from injury. Queen Elizabeth leaned out of the car to ascertain the condition of the woman, and she kindly and obligingly told her Majesty a touching tale of a broken home and starving children. The Queen smiled and comforted the woman and then called an equestrian and ordered that everything necessary be done for her.

While a lady of the court was proceeding from the palace to buy food and clothes for the children of the woman she was knocked down by a street car and badly injured.

He also asserted that the Big Dipper eventually will disappear.

Ultra-Violet Rays Explode Far Distant Torpedoes.

(By Times Special Cable.)
 Florence, Italy, Feb. 12.—A successful experiment of exploding torpedoes from a long distance by means of the ultra-violet rays, discovered by Giulio Ianni, the Italian inventor, was carried out here today.

Signor Ianni has handed over his secret to the Italian Government, and preparations were made for an experiment, details of which were kept as much as possible from public knowledge. It became known, however, that Admiral Pietro Fumani had placed in the River Arno two torpedoes charged with smokeless gunpowder, and two others with black gunpowder.

The ultra-violet ray apparatus was posted on the tower of the Palazzo Vecchio, about two miles away from the torpedoes. The signal was given by Signor Ianni, and the torpedoes exploded.

CARS TIED UP

Three Small Mishaps on Street Car Line.

"Trouble never comes singly." is an old saying, and a demonstration of its veracity was experienced by the Hamilton Street Railway Company last night, when cars were tied up for over forty minutes. The trouble started shortly after seven, when a slight fog "fogged" the track on near street, and it took eighteen minutes to clear the way, but all G. T. R. and James street cars got to the corner of King and James streets an overboard wire "spit," and the trouble men were on the scene almost immediately. Twelve minutes more were lost while the wire was being replaced. The trouble men were on the scene almost immediately. Twelve minutes more were lost while the wire was being replaced.

Continued Cold Weather is Bad for the Trains.

Mr. Gordon, superintendent of the G. T. R. local line, stated this morning that the cold weather had given them all kinds of trouble, in that nearly all trains were behind time. The express from Montreal was fifteen minutes late this morning, and all Toronto trains were running anywhere from twenty minutes to an hour and a half behind time. Mr. Gordon stated that no such thing had happened—probably just some cold wind blowing from the north.

Board of Works Takes Strong Objection to the Increased Prices.

A lively time between the city officials and the Hydro Department is looked for to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, when a conference will be held for the purpose of thrashing out in detail the various estimates on street lighting and power to be used at the Beach waterworks. The officials of the Board of Works are not in any way to be out of a frame of mind over the announcement that they'll have to pay $6,500 more for street lighting and also more for power at the Beach, despite the fact that the Hydro hiked some time ago that it might have to charge the other departments more also for the energy used last year.

COFFEE ON SUNDAY

For the Patrons of Salvation Army Relief Station.

The Salvation Army continues to do good work in the old Gore Street Church in distributing hot soup and bread in the mornings to those who are in need. About 120 portions of the meal served to-day and the number is increasing. The authorities have found that there is no need to dispense coffee but on Sunday, they will give away in the morning the usual meal and in the evening a hot soup and bread. It is hoped that some private citizen of Hamilton may supply the men with a meal on Sunday, but no definite arrangements have been made yet.

Councillor Guest Has Power for the Council.

Councillor Ed. Guest promises to provide the fireworks for an immense display at the next session of the city council. In other words he will ask a question, and that query will be: "Why did not the legislation committee of last year follow out the mandate of the council council as per resolution of the council of the Provincial Government to pass legislation that would permit the election of three councillors to the council to take the place of the council council?" This motion was carried. Councillor Guest and Collins was passed. The committee never did a thing with it. The councillor wants to know why.

MR. PERLEY'S BILL TO REPEAL

And Naval Repeal Bill Are Crowded Out.

CROTHERS ANGRY

Another Bribery Affair—As to Divorce Cases

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—By a new and technical interpretation of the rules of Parliament, Mr. Alexander Verville, labor member for Macdonough, believes the Government hopes to "steal" his bill, introduced at the "behest" of labor, to provide by legislation the eight-hour day for active in the case of all public works and contracts. The labor member brought the matter before the House at today's sitting, and charged that he was being shut off from an opportunity to introduce his bill.

Mr. Verville introduced his bill early in the session. Under the rules, "public bills and orders" must be introduced by the House. This bill, however, has a preferred position on the order of business on certain days during the first four weeks of the session. In this way they are assured of consideration. After the first four weeks, however, this preferred position is lost, and with other business having precedence, the result is not reached.

In 1910, Mr. Verville pointed out, no such interpretation of the rules was made or insisted upon by the Laurier Government. At that time, he said, he introduced his bill, and the opening day of the session, being concerned with the election of the House, should not be taken into account as one of the days considered in the four-week period. But the present Government has every desire to fly shy of the eight-hour bill.

Yesterday Premier Borden took the ground that the four weeks specified under the rules expired with the conclusion of Wednesday's business. This crowd out Mr. Verville's bill.

Mr. Verville will not only for today, but for the session. Thus the Government is saved from facing a situation which the labor men desire will go uncorrected.

A Government more friendly to the labor interests than the present Ministry would scarcely have taken the course which is now being followed.

Incidentally, the Government's action will also keep Mr. Lesperance's bill to repeal the navy act from getting under the bill this session. That bill appears under "public bills and orders," and no new statute will be introduced of being reached this year. Thus is the Government saved from another embarrassing situation.

Mr. Lesperance's bill would open up the whole navy question, and the Government is desperately anxious to avoid coming to pass.

FOR DIVORCE AND MORE intelligent method of dealing with divorce cases was informally discussed by the Privy Council members today, as matters now stand, divorce cases, after being passed on by the Senate, fall into the hands of the Privy Council for consideration. Mr. Lesperance's bill would give the Senate the right to vote on divorce cases without having any opportunity to hear witnesses, or to even vote on real evidence.

Mr. Steele raised the question and asked the committee whether it was the same opportunity as the Senate of properly passing on the bill, or whether it was a matter of appeal without any of the advantages of a court.

Mr. H. A. Boyd and other members of the new chairman, Mr. Sam Sharpe, suggested that the committee by either a joint one with the Senate Committee, or by a separate committee, be appointed to pass on all cases and report.

George Perley said that it was impossible to have a joint committee, but there was no objection to the Finance Committee attending such sessions. The chairman was instructed to make inquiries as to some reform in present methods.

UNITION LIFE CASE.

Is the Department of Finance acting with the Attorney-General of Ontario in the prosecution of the directors of the Union Life Insurance Co.?

Mr. Perley asked Mr. A. K. Maclean, (Minister), when the estimates of the Finance Department were introduced by Hon. Mr. White in the absence of Hon. Mr. Perley.

Mr. Maclean recalled the fact that Premier Borden had promised last year to introduce a bill to provide for the insurance of the lives of the members of the House of Commons. He said that when this legislation could be enacted, he would introduce it.

Mr. Maclean promised to know if the Government intended to recoup the loss of the directors of the Union Life Insurance Co. He said that he had not heard of any such intention.

"I will bring the matter to the attention of the Finance Committee," Mr. Perley assured the Halifax man. He did not know that the Finance Committee was in any way responsible for the loss.

Mr. Lancelot, speaking in French, made the claim of the directors of the Union Life Insurance Co. He said that the directors of the Union Life Insurance Co. had been found guilty of fraud, and that the directors of the Union Life Insurance Co. had been found guilty of fraud.

matter would be considered by Hon. Mr. White.

ANOTHER ALLEGED WHARVES.

Another alleged wharves was uncovered in the House today. This time was the attempt to influence a Provincial by-election in York County. New Brunswick, and the erection of new wharves to be erected at Fredericton.

The matter was brought up by P. R. Carvell (Carleton), who read newspaper reports to show that at a meeting in Fredericton, N. B., Mr. McLeod, a Federal Conservative member for the district, had stated that he would promise of Hon. Mr. Rogers that new concrete wharves would be constructed.

Mr. McLeod said that he would promise of Hon. Mr. Rogers that new concrete wharves would be constructed. He said that he would promise of Hon. Mr. Rogers that new concrete wharves would be constructed.

Mr. Carvell pressed, for an explanation of the whole matter. Hon. Mr. Rogers was silent for the moment, and Premier Borden had no statement to make. He promised, however, to bring the matter to the attention of the House.

ROYAL SPEEDING IN QUEBEC CASE

Graft Investigation Committee
Issues Both Report.

THE CONSPIRACY

A Long Statement on the Scheme to Entrap.

Quebec, Feb. 12.—Both the Legislative Council and the Assembly investigating committee made public their report today in regard to the graft charges, and as was expected, Messrs. Berard, Bergerin and Mousseau are found guilty by their colleagues. The reports contain no recommendation as to the House, and there was little discussion upon their finding, but it is possible that their consideration may be taken up next Tuesday.

The Assembly Committee's report says they were ordered to inquire into two questions:

(1) Did Mr. Mousseau receive the sum of $10,000 in connection with the bill No. 158?

(2) Was there a conspiracy between those who were unknown when the money was received, and the bill No. 158, to obtain the commission by Mr. Mousseau of the office with which he is charged?

COMMITTEES FINDING.

The committee finds that Mr. Mousseau received from the American-Canadian, Ltd., the sum of $10,000 in connection with the bill No. 158 to incorporate the Montreal and Quebec Railway Co.

Messrs. Nicholas and MacNeil limit their accusations to Mr. Mousseau, as the members of the Legislative Assembly are concerned, but the evidence proves that no other members of the Assembly were involved in the thing, whatever to secure the passing of this bill.

As to the three officers who were mentioned as those to whom some money had been given, no proof whatever has been given against them, and all three have formally expressed their protest against the money given them.

"The bill of the Montreal Railway Co. is a bill of the House of Commons, and the Legislature, contains no provision which is extraordinary or prejudicial to the public interest."

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY.

With regard to the alleged "conspiracy," the report says:

"On the evening of the month of September Mr. Edward Beck, then connected with The Montreal Herald, and Mr. J. A. Labelle, then connected with the coming session of the Legislature, certain legislation of the Province would be presented, conceived by Mr. J. A. Labelle, and for that purpose applied to Mr. Mousseau and informed him of the plan, and he was approved of the plan, agreed to pay the expenses which would be incurred by Mr. Mousseau in the course of the practice revealed at the investigation."

"Mr. D. Lorne MacGillivray admits having paid a sum of $50,000. He appears to have given this money to Mr. Mousseau, and he is the only one who did not know until about the middle of the month of November that he had been so involved in the American detective. He adds that he learned of their subsequent doing only through the intervention of Mr. Beck, who has been kept informed of all that was being done since November 24, 1913."

"The report of the Montreal Railway Association of Canada was prepared by Mr. J. A. Labelle, and it was Mr. J. A. Labelle who had been sent to him by Mr. D. Lorne MacGillivray."

"Mr. D. Lorne MacGillivray admitted that he had been sent to him by Mr. D. Lorne MacGillivray, and he was the only one who did not know until about the middle of the month of November that he had been so involved in the American detective. "Mr. J. A. Labelle, the advocate in charge of the bill, received from the American detective, in connection with the bill, a sum of $10,000, and he is the only one who did not know until about the middle of the month of November that he had been so involved in the American detective. He adds that he learned of their subsequent doing only through the intervention of Mr. Beck, who has been kept informed of all that was being done since November 24, 1913."

"Mr. Labelle himself drew up the bill, and he is the only one who did not know until about the middle of the month of November that he had been so involved in the American detective. He adds that he learned of their subsequent doing only through the intervention of Mr. Beck, who has been kept informed of all that was being done since November 24, 1913."

The committee finds that Mr. Mousseau received from the American-Canadian, Ltd., the sum of $10,000 in connection with the bill No. 158 to incorporate the Montreal and Quebec Railway Co.

Messrs. Nicholas and MacNeil limit their accusations to Mr. Mousseau, as the members of the Legislative Assembly are concerned, but the evidence proves that no other members of the Assembly were involved in the thing, whatever to secure the passing of this bill.

As to the three officers who were mentioned as those to whom some money had been given, no proof whatever has been given against them, and all three have formally expressed their protest against the money given them.

"The bill of the Montreal Railway Co. is a bill of the House of Commons, and the Legislature, contains no provision which is extraordinary or prejudicial to the public interest."

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY.

With regard to the alleged "conspiracy," the report says:

"On the evening of the month of September Mr. Edward Beck, then connected with The Montreal Herald, and Mr. J. A. Labelle, then connected with the coming session of the Legislature, certain legislation of the Province would be presented, conceived by Mr. J. A. Labelle, and for that purpose applied to Mr. Mousseau and informed him of the plan, and he was approved of the plan, agreed to pay the expenses which would be incurred by Mr. Mousseau in the course of the practice revealed at the investigation."

"Mr. D. Lorne MacGillivray admits having paid a sum of $50,000. He appears to have given this money to Mr. Mousseau, and he is the only one who did not know until about the middle of the month of November that he had been so involved in the American detective. He adds that he learned of their subsequent doing only through the intervention of Mr. Beck, who has been kept informed of all that was being done since November 24, 1913."

"The report of the Montreal Railway Association of Canada was prepared by Mr. J. A. Labelle, and it was Mr. J. A. Labelle who had been sent to him by Mr. D. Lorne MacGillivray."

"Mr. J. A. Labelle, the advocate in charge of the bill, received from the American detective, in connection with the bill, a sum of $10,000, and he is the only one who did not know until about the middle of the month of November that he had been so involved in the American detective. He adds that he learned of their subsequent doing only through the intervention of Mr. Beck, who has been kept informed of all that was being done since November 24, 1913."

"Mr. Labelle himself drew up the bill, and he is the only one who did not know until about the middle of the month of November that he had been so involved in the American detective. He adds that he learned of their subsequent doing only through the intervention of Mr. Beck, who has been kept informed of all that was being done since November 24, 1913."
